

Together

Together we've learned, together we've grown,
Together we hide our fears, so that nothing will show.
So hand in hand and step by step,
We'll make our longest journey yet.
But together, we'll remember

We are your children and we'll never let you down.
What you have given us will always be around.
So together, remember we'll always be together on our own.

(2nd time)

We are your children and we'll never let you down.
What you have given us will always be around.
So together, remember we'll always be together
So together, remember we'll always be together
So together, remember we'll always be together on our own.
